

2. Linguo-labial refers to an articulation involving the tongue tip or blade and the upper lip. Linguo-labial stops are rare, but occur in Vao and V'enen Taut (Austronesian languages of Vanuatu) and a few other languages.

-- Linguo-labial closure shown in frames from video-tape of Vao /naŋɖak/ “bow” (for shooting arrows) showing movement from vowel position to medial consonant note upper lip moving down and back to meet advancing tongue

Linguo-labial in Vao

